500 - 1,000 mSv received in a short period will likely cause some observable health effects and received over a long period will increase your chances of getting cancer. Above 500 mSv we may see some changes in blood cells, but the blood system quickly recovers. 1,000 - 2,000 mSv received in a short period will cause nausea and fatigue. 1,000 ...

and international units of millisieverts (mSv) (1 rem = 1,000 mrem; 1 Sv = 1,000 mSv; 1 Sv = 100 rem). The "average" American receives about 620 mrem (6.2 mSv) per year from all sources of radiation. This includes, on average, about 310 mrem (3.1 mSv) from naturally occurring sources and about 310 mrem (3.1 mSv) from Das Millisievert (mSv) ist eine Einheit zur Messung der Strahlendosis, die &#252;blicherweise anstelle des Sieverts (Sv) verwendet wird, wenn es um niedrigere Expositionsniveaus geht. Ein Sievert entspricht eintausend Millisievert (1 Sv = 1000 mSv). Da das Sievert eine relativ gro&#223;e Einheit ist, wird das Millisievert verwendet, um typischere ...
